Local Opportunity to Help Hurricane Victims in North Carolina

Word has been received that victims of the recent hurricane in North Carolina are in need of plarn (plastic yarn) mats as beds for those who have lost their homes. New Hope Lutheran has been making plarn mats for The Beacon homeless shelter in Madison for the past three years. A work day has been scheduled to make as many plarn mats as possible to send with Rainelde Raymond when local donations are being taken to North Carolina the first week of December. The work day will be held on Saturday, November 30, 8:00 am to 4:00 PM, at New Hope Lutheran, 305 Madison Street, Blanchardville. Come for an hour or the entire day. Those who would like to help are asked to bring clean plastic grocery bags as it takes approximately 500 bags to make one mat. No experience is necessary. A potluck lunch will be served at noon. Please contact Connie Curran with questions. curranconnie@hotmail.com
